We had a lot of fun at school today. Our teacher arranged for a forest ranger to come to class. A forest ranger is a person who takes care of the trees and wildlife in the forest. Today, he came to teach us how to plant trees and how that helps to keep air clean all over the world. After the lesson we all went out side to learn how to plant five trees in the school garden. We are lucky to have a garden in our school, and now we are lucky to have 5 new trees to take care of as they grow.

I woke up coughing, at first I thought I had caught a cold from school. I sat up in bed , my eyes were watering as I turned on the light next to my bed. My room was full of smoke and I could hear crashing from outside my door. I was scared, my bedroom was upstairs and I didn't want to get out of the window. I jumped out of bed and shouted for my parents, I just heard a shout, from outside, telling me to get back from the door.

I jumped back just as the door smashed open. A large man burst in carrying an axe and wearing a mask! I think I screamed as he picked me up and ran down the stairs and out into the street...
