SIMPLE NOUN PHRASES

Dog	City	Apple	Elephant
Chair	Ocean	Music	They
Happiness	Teacher	They	It

Simple noun phrases are the starting blocks of sentence construction. They typically consist of a single noun or pronoun that serves as the subject or object within a sentence.

Example: The word "dog" in "The dog barked loudly," is a simple noun phrase acting as the subject.

PRE - MODIFIERS

Adjectives	Numbers	Quantifiers	Determiners
Blue	Two	Many	The
Happy	Three	Few	A
Large	Four	Several	This
Ancient	Five	Enough	That

Premodifiers are the bells and whistles of noun phrases. They include adjectives, numbers, quantifiers, and determiners that precede a noun,

Example: In "She read the ancient book," the adjective "ancient" premodifies the noun "book," offering a hint of its age.

POST - MODIFIERS

with a bright red collar	under the old oak tree	who teaches mathematics	that glows in the dark playing in the garden	singing a beautiful melody	beside the peaceful lake	covered in colorful stickers
reading a thrilling novel	chasing its tail	standing at the corner	wearing a blue sweater

Postmodifiers come into play after the noun, further describing or clarifying it. They can be prepositional phrases, relative clauses, or participle phrases that add information.

Example: "The tree with the twisted branches" includes the postmodifier "with the twisted branches," painting a more vivid image of the tree.
